

Brent Teachout, the owner of The 3 Marketeers, grew up in the Black Hills, left for 14 years and moved back permanently in 1994 bringing his company with him. His slogan, "I'm the company with "BIG AGENCY" capabilities at the small agency fees.

His education includes a bachelors degree in film/video production and masters studies in marketing and advertising. For the past 15 years he has helped customers and clients with almost anything that can be printed, from business cards to large vinyl highway signs. This experience has led him all over the country utilizing the best printers, at the best pricing, for the jobs at hand.

He's worked with businesses in tourism, construction, real estate, food & beverage and retail helping them with printed material, web development and marketing/advertising strategies.

If your business needs to get "ELECTRIFIED" give Brent the opportunity to let the creative juices flow and help your business to be more successful.
